PROPOSAL DEADLINE - OCTOBER 1, 2015

Undergraduate students are invited to present posters on research they are conducting under the supervision of their Political Science faculty advisors. Any topic appropriate to the political science discipline – broadly conceived – is welcomed and encouraged.

Since the 2009 annual meeting, the Western Political Science Association has invited undergraduate students to present posters on research they are conducting under the supervision of their Political Science faculty advisors. Poster sessions are a great opportunity for students to present their research while being introduced into the professional discipline of Political Science and to the Western Political Science Association. Students will be available at their poster or display during their assigned session time (Friday, March 25, 1:15 – 3:00 pm in the Foyer by the WPSA registration area) to discuss their research with conference participants.
